- I worked on the Multi sound timer app API, which allows users to register, verify their email, login, logout, and forget their password. After logging into the app, the user can add a timer to the segment. The user can favourite the sound, change the timer, and view the notification. You can also upgrade the account to a monthly or yearly basis, delete the account, and much more.
- Create a web application for HRMS and PMS that allows administrators to assign tasks to employees and track the status of projects. Track the specific user's work time based on their assigned task, and HR can view the employee details and upload the biometric csv file, as well as check their report datewise, and employee can request leave through portal, then admin can view who is requesting leave, as well as approve or reject the leave status, and many more.
